EXAMINER'S ACTION

Art Unit 1206

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. § 103 which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Subject matter developed by another person, which qualifies as prior art only under subsection (f) or (g) of section 102 of this title, shall not preclude patentability under this section where the subject matter and the claimed invention were, at the time the invention was made, owned by the same person or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person.

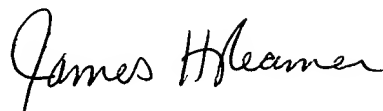

Claims 1, 2, 7 and 8 remain rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103 as being unpatentable over Sifniades in combination with Barcilli et al and Anderson, for the reasons of record. The argument concerning the recovery and recycling of the added acetone was addressed by the Board of Appeals where they stated that "Barcilli explicitly discloses obtaining his added acetone as a recycle stream from a product separation step; see lines 36 through 40 on page 2". The fact that the instant process removes the acetone prior to neutaslization has not been shown to be patentably significant. The remaining issues have been previously answered by the board of Appeals.
